These levels are approximate and are provided for general comparisons only. The leveling characteristics may differ among the various leveling systems. Book selection is NEVER simply a matter of choosing a book level that matches the Reading Record level or grade level of the students. When selecting books, it is imperative to consider the content of the book, the background and prior experience of the students reading the book, and overall pattern of performance of the students on other similar reading materials.

Instructional Support Level Correlation Chart This correlation chart illustrates how Learning A-Z levels approximately correlate to other leveling systems commonly found in leveled reading materials. The Learning A-Z Text Leveling System in English and Spanish uses objective (quantitative) and subjective (qualitative) leveling criteria to measure text complexity. Teachers should use their professional judgment of additional qualitative criteria along with reader and task considerations to determine if an individual book at a given level is appropriate for a student.
